Commencement

The University of Memphis

University Mace

The University Mace, a symbol of leadership and authority, is a visual embodiment of tradition in academic circles. Presented during the institution's 75th anniversary in 1987, the mace is displayed only at formal events attended by faculty and top administrators dressed in full academic regalia. The evolution of the University's name is depicted on silver disks on the mace's bronze head.

University Banner

The University banner, introduced at our first commencement as The University of Memphis in August 1994, incorporates our seal surrounded by the traditional gold laurel wreath. The internal shield depicts higher education's torch of learning and book of knowledge as well as our state's commerce and industry symbols. Our opening date of 1912 is shown below the shield.

Presidential Medallion

The Presidential Medallion signifies position, authority and trust and is worn by the President during official academic functions at the University. Commissioned by a group of distinguished alumni and friends and presented to the University in 1974, the Presidential Medallion combines institutional symbols with chain links honoring all presidents of the University.

HISTORICAL HERITAGE

From the opening of its doors in 1912 as a normal school for training teachers to its present status as one of Tennessee's two comprehensive universities, The University of Memphis has been thrust forward by the growth of Memphis and the Mid-South. A town oriented to a rural economy and culture in 1900 grew into a large urban and commercial center by mid-century, and the city's public institution of higher learning experienced comparable growth.

The normal school grew from a few hundred students (1912-1925) to a teachers' college with a better staff and an enrollment of up to a thousand (1925-1941), then to a state college with an expanded curriculum in liberal arts, business and graduate education for three to four thousand students (1941-1957), until the institution achieved university status in 1957. Memphis State University became The University of Memphis as on July 1, 1994.

It was not an easy struggle. As the city of Memphis grew and prospered, the demand for a completely developed public university grew. Finally, legislators and board members agreed about The University of Memphis' role and approved the change urged so forcefully by concerned local citizens, several presidents, alumni and faculty members.

The metropolitan requirements for more highly trained university graduates have, of necessity, caused The University to expand all its offerings in arts and sciences, business, the fine arts, education, engineering and technology, law, and several special professional fields. More than 75 percent of the full-time faculty have earned the highest possible degree in their fields.

With its five Centers of Excellence and 18 Chairs of Excellence, The University of Memphis is in the forefront of research and instruction in this region. Our students have the opportunity to study under some of the country's best educators. Therefore, every graduate of The University of Memphis should be able to compete effectively with his or her counterparts from any other respected university in the nation.

If this mind reaches out for all the learning of the past and all the great dreams of the future, feed it that upon which it will grow . . . .

John Trotwood Moore, 1922

ACADEMIC DRESS

The following information is to help our visitors identify the costumes seen in the commencement procession:

Academic dress originated at universities in the Middle Ages when a warm gown and hood were necessary in unheated buildings. For centuries these gowns distinguished students from their fellow citizens; sometimes this distinction in dress symbolized unfortunate controversies between "town and gown". The European habit of using academic robes came to this country in the eighteenth century with the founding of what is now Columbia University. In 1895, American universities and colleges standardized their styles of academic costumes, and this system, with occasional modifications, is still in force. Today, the various colors, trimmings, and patterns of gown, hood, and cap are all traditional and symbolize both the degree and field of learning.

GOWNS: American academic gowns are usually of black material, and their pattern varies with the degree held. The bachelor gowns are relatively simple in design with a closed front and long, pointed, open sleeves. Master's gowns have an open front with long, closed sleeves, the arms extending through a slit at the elbow, giving the appearance of short sleeves. Doctoral gowns are the most elaborate with velvet panels down the open front and three velvet bars on the bell-shaped sleeves.

HOODS: The hoods, differing in length for the three degrees (bachelor's, master's, and doctor's), are lined with the colors of the institution that granted the degree. Hoods are also trimmed with the color that heralds the major field of learning.

CAPS: A square mortarboard is the approved headgear. The tassel, fastened to the middle point of the top of the cap, is black or the color appropriate to the subject; it may be gold if the holder has a doctor's degree. The University of Memphis has adopted the practice of having candidates for the bachelor degree wear the tassels on the right front side before degrees are conferred and shift them to the left at the moment when the degrees are awarded to them.

In the last few years, many universities have decided to return to a distinctive gown design. For instance, Columbia's is now slate gray, Rochester's a dandelion yellow, Northwestern's is purple. The doctoral gown, with facing of black velvet, now has sleeve bands in the color of the wearer's discipline. Some have replaced the mortarboard with a soft velvet tam with a gold tassel.

Following is a list of the hood and tassel colors that represent several categories of learning:

Arts, Letters, Humanities ..... White	Journalism ..... Crimson
Audiology & Speech Pathology ..... Dark Blue	Law ..... Purple
City & Regional Planning ..... Scarlet Red	Music ..... Pink
Commerce, Accountancy, Business ..... Sapphire Blue	Nursing ..... Apricot
Communication Arts ..... Silver Gray	Philosophy ..... Dark Blue
Economics ..... Copper	Physical Education ..... Sage Green
Education ..... Light Blue	Public Administration ..... Peacock Blue
Engineering ..... Orange	Science ..... Golden Yellow
Fine Arts ..... Brown	Social Work ..... Citron
Home Economics ..... Maroon

All hoods are edged with the above colors. These same colors may be used for the facing and sleeve bars of doctoral gowns and tassels on bachelors' and masters' caps.

The lining of the hood indicates the university granting the degree—for The University of Memphis, blue and gray. Among other institutional colors represented at this commencement are those for Arkansas, red and white; Chicago, maroon; Columbia, light blue and white chevron; Duke, royal blue with white chevron; Emory, navy blue with gold chevron; Harvard, crimson; Illinois, navy blue with two orange chevrons; University of Iowa, old gold; Kansas, navy blue with cardinal chevron; Northwestern, purple with gold chevrons; Ohio State, scarlet with silver gray chevron; Rice, silver above blue; Texas, white above orange; Vanderbilt, black and gold; Wisconsin, bright red; Yale, royal blue.

From modest beginnings in the 1920's, The University of Memphis Alumni Association (AA) has grown into a nationwide organization representing over 60,000 alumni and friends. The AA has enjoyed its greatest growth since 1962 when the Association was first chartered. The Association moved into the Alumni Center, its beautiful headquarters on the southeast edge of the campus, in 1976.

The Alumni Association is organized to provide aid, assistance and counsel to The University and the cause of education in general, and to promote fellowship among its members. As a graduate of The U of M, one is automatically a member of the Alumni Association.

The Alumni Association is governed by an Executive Committee and national Board of Directors selected each year. The Executive Committee meets monthly while the entire board meets approximately three times a year. An annual business meeting is held on Homecoming Day each fall. The Alumni Center administratively is part of The University's Division of Advancement. The Center has an eight-person professional and support staff.

A wide variety of programs and services are offered to The U of M Alumni and friends by the Alumni Association. These include local constituent alumni chapters and out-of-town "The U of M Clubs," the Statewide Network system for alumni volunteers, pre-game "Tiger Uproars" and parties, a low-cost insurance program, international travel and trips to Tiger athletic events through the "Travelin Tigers" tour program, and special alumni-oriented merchandise offerings, reunions, Homecoming, the Distinguished Alumni Awards, the Young Alumni Council, the Student Ambassador Board and the official university magazine.

For further information, contact the Alumni Center at 678-2586.

UNDERGRADUATE

CANDIDATES FOR DEGREES

GRADUATION WITH DISTINCTION

Based on a grading system of "A" as 4.0, three designations of graduation honors are recognized.*

Summa Cum Laude	With Highest Distinction	3.80 - 4.00	Gold Cord
Magna Cum Laude	With High Distinction	3.50 - 3.79	Crimson Cord
Cum Laude	With Distinction	3.25 - 3.49	White Cord

GRADUATION WITH HONORS

With the approval of the University Honors Council, The University of Memphis offers several departmental honors programs. These programs involve a combination of special honors course work, independent study, and usually an honors thesis or project. Students who successfully complete a departmental honors program are awarded their degrees with honors in their area of concentration (e.g., With Honors in English).

*Note: Because of time limitations imposed in preparing this program for commencement, listing for graduation with distinction was based on a minimum of forty-five (45) graded semester hours and the grade point average as of the term prior to the final semester. Final determination of graduation with distinction will be based on a minimum of fifty (50) graded semester hours, including the final semester, and on the cumulative grade point average as of graduation.

THE GRADUATE SCHOOL

Interim Dean David H. Ciscel, Ph.D.

The Graduate School of The University of Memphis is the center of advanced study and research within the University. The basic objectives of The Graduate School are (a) to preserve and disseminate knowledge now available in the humanities, the sciences, and the various professional areas represented by the departmental graduate faculties; (b) to extend knowledge through basic research; and (c) to prepare men and women to assume a more responsible and useful role in society.

Dean Donald J. Polden, J.D.

The faculty of the School of Law is proud to present for conferral of the Juris Doctor degree the men and women who have successfully met all of the requirements for graduation as established by the School of Law. These graduates are not only prepared to enter into the practice of law at this time, but they are prepared for a lifetime of leadership in the legal profession. The School of Law endeavors to inculcate in each graduate a sense of responsibility to improve the providing of legal services to all persons and segments of society. Above all, the School of Law endeavors to impress upon each graduate the necessity for maintaining high ethical standards which are expected of lawyers in today's society. These graduates are entering a profession that is vital to the preservation of a free and democratic society, and they are well prepared for the challenges that lie ahead.

THE SCHOOL OF AUDIOLOGY AND SPEECH-LANGUAGE PATHOLOGY

Dean Maurice I. Mendel, Ph.D.

The School of Audiology and Speech-Language Pathology provides students with the fundamentals of communication processes and disorders that provoke critical thinking and problem solving. At the master's level, the program places emphasis upon theoretical and applied aspects of communication disorders that prepare graduates for service provision careers within the field and for further graduate study. At the doctoral level, the program emphasizes the theoretical and applied aspects of communication disorders that prepare graduates for academic research and teaching positions within the field and for post-doctoral graduate study. The program is accredited by the American Speech-Language-Hearing Association. We are proud of the following graduates:

The primary function of the School of Nursing is to offer a program of study designed to prepare students for careers in professional nursing. As a part of a comprehensive university, the School of Nursing is dedicated to the development of scholarship in nursing and to providing services supportive of the institutional mission. The School of Nursing is committed to the following purposes: (1) Provide a curriculum leading to the degree of Bachelor of Science in Nursing essential to beginning professional practice and graduate study in nursing; (2) Promote the intellectual, personal and professional development of students by offering a curriculum which combines a strong liberal education with the professional major; (3) Provide a plan of study with flexible options that are responsive to the individual learner's needs; (4) Encourage the use of opportunities available in a comprehensive university setting to foster values, attitudes and personal qualities essential to living a fulfilling life and contributing to society; (5) Produce graduates who demonstrate competence in conceptual, functional and interpersonal skills basic to beginning professional nursing practice in a variety of settings. (6) Produce politically and socially conscious graduates who are competent practitioners in a variety of settings. (7) Prepare graduates who assume leadership roles to effect change for a healthy society. The program is accredited by the National League for Nursing.

THE UNIVERSITY COLLEGE

Dean H. Ramsey Fowler, Ph.D.

As The University of Memphis' college of lifelong learning, University College works with students on the development of individualized and interdisciplinary programs and/or with students whose schedules and places of residence inhibit or prevent them from completing courses on the main campus. Through Bornblum Judaic Studies, it presents the rich intellectual and cultural traditions of the Jewish people within the contexts of world cultures. Through its Paralegal Studies programs, it offers certificate and baccalaureate professional training. And finally, through its division of Baccalaureate Programs, it offers students the opportunity to develop and complete individualized and interdisciplinary concentrations within the Bachelor of Liberal Studies and the Bachelor of Professional Studies degrees.

THE HERFF COLLEGE OF ENGINEERING

Dean Richard C. Warder, Jr., Ph.D.

The Engineering College's function is to provide education and research opportunities in the principal fields of engineering and engineering technology for the benefit of the industries and agencies of the metropolitan area, the state, and the nation. This purpose is accomplished by providing professional education in the principal fields of engineering, education in the major areas of four-year engineering technology, and graduate education in all areas. The programs in engineering and engineering technology are accredited by the prestigious Accreditation Board for Engineering and Technology. The following are the degrees offered with the appropriate concentrations within the respective areas:

BACHELOR OF SCIENCE IN CIVIL ENGINEERING

Candidates for this degree have majored in civil engineering with a concentration in environmental engineering, foundation engineering, structural engineering, transportation engineering, or construction engineering.

Darek Mitchell Baskin, cum laude

THE COLLEGE OF EDUCATION

Dean Nathan L. Essex, Ph.D.

The College of Education pursues six stated goals. One goal is "to provide preparation programs that produce teachers and certain other professional personnel sufficient in quantity and competence to help meet the needs of the state, region, and nation."

Undergraduate programs provided by the College of Education lead to the Bachelor of Science in Education, or the Bachelor of Science in Home Economics.

Degree program consists of three basic components. General Education courses comprise approximately 45% of each degree program. Professional courses make up from 25% to 40% of the total requirements, depending on the particular program followed. The remaining portion is used to develop one or more specializations.

In addition to prescribed courses, graduates of the various degree programs are required to meet criteria related to personal and professional fitness for their chosen careers. Field-based laboratory experiences are included in all teacher preparation programs in the College.

BACHELOR OF SCIENCE IN EDUCATION

Candidates for this professional degree have studied in programs covering three broad fields: curriculum and instruction, health and physical education, and special education. These several teacher education preparation programs cover four majors which, in turn, are subdivided into some twenty academic teaching endorsements. The College of Education also offers through this degree majors in the non-teaching fields of health and safety, recreation and park administration, rehabilitation education, and educational services.

THE COLLEGE OF COMMUNICATION AND FINE ARTS

Dean Richard R. Ranta, Ph.D.

The College of Communication and Fine Arts is ultimately centered on visual and audible symbols whose rational and emotional values it is the mission of the College to create and explore. In the belief that perception is largely shaped by experience, the College of Communication and Fine Arts offers a range of symbolically rendered experiences, both individual and collective, in the hope of broadening and sensitizing the perceptions of its students.

Through its various professional courses of study, it prepares students to work toward careers in the fine or applied arts, communication, or the performing arts, whether as practitioners, teachers, artists, or consultants. The College offers three degrees by which to accomplish its purposes:

BACHELOR OF ARTS

Candidates for the oldest of the traditional baccalaureate degrees are students who have majored in art history; journalism with concentrations in either advertising, broadcast news, public relations, or news editorial; or theatre and communication arts with concentrations in broadcast and electronic media, communication, film and video production, or theatre.

THE FOGELMAN COLLEGE OF BUSINESS AND ECONOMICS

Interim Dean O.C. Ferrell, Ph.D.

The Fogelman College of Business and Economics offers only one undergraduate degree, the Bachelor of Business Administration degree. The goal of the undergraduate program of the Fogelman College of Business and Economics is to provide the basic education needed to prepare a person to enter the field of business and to move rapidly from an entry level position to a managerial level of work.

We believe the curriculum that best accomplishes this goal consists of four components. First, a broad foundation of course work is provided in the liberal arts and sciences. At least 40 percent of the work taken by each student in the Fogelman College of Business and Economics is in the humanities, the social sciences, the natural and physical sciences, communications, and mathematics.

Second, the curriculum includes a significant amount of study of the economic and legal environment of business and introduces each of the major functional fields of business—accounting, finance management, and marketing.

Third, the curriculum provides for a choice of a major by the student. The student is permitted to select a major from accounting, economics, finance, risk management and insurance, financial services, real estate, business management, management information systems, decision sciences, marketing, sales/marketing, transportation and distribution, or international business. Within most areas there is opportunity for the student to select a more specialized area of concentration, such as human resource management, advertising, productions operations, and office management.

Fourth, the Bachelor of Business Administration curriculum offers the opportunity for the selection of free electives. Through these electives, the student may select courses particularly suited to her or his own interests, thus providing an opportunity for the student to pursue in greater breadth and depth the study of business or related fields.

THE COLLEGE OF ARTS AND SCIENCES

Interim Dean John R. Haddock, Ph.D.

The aims and purposes of The College of Arts and Sciences are summarized in these words that serve as part of our official statement in the catalog issue of the University Bulletin: "The program of liberal studies aims (1) to provide students with a store of factual knowledge; (2) to introduce them to varying sets of principles; (3) to stimulate them to think about and to evaluate these facts and principles; and (4) to encourage them to order their own affairs and those of society with the talent, insight, and discrimination which they develop." We have been privileged to pursue these aims with the following students who are candidates for the five degrees which we offer:

THE DEPARTMENT OF MILITARY SCIENCE
ARMY ROTC BATTALION
CANDIDATES FOR ARMY COMMISSION

The Army ROTC Department of Military Science offers a two-year and a four-year program of study in leadership and management leading to a commission as a Second Lieutenant in either the regular Army, the National Guard, or the Army Reserves. These programs are open to men and women.

The four-year program consists of the Basic Course, normally the Freshman and Sophomore years, and the Advanced Course, normally the Junior and Senior years. The Basic Course prepares students for the Advanced Course and provides an education in citizenship, basic leadership, management skills, and enrichment experiences required to become an effective junior officer. The student learns about the wide range of Army career specialties. Advanced Course students normally attend a six-week leadership practicum called Advanced Camp between their Junior and Senior level of the Advanced Course. This camp is conducted at an Army installation. Students are provided uniforms, room and board, medical care, travel to and from camp, and are paid approximately one-half the pay of a second Lieutenant while at camp.

The two-year program consists of the Advanced Course only. Selected students may qualify for entry into the two-year program at the Advanced Course level by completing a challenging six-week basic leadership experience during the summer at Fort Knox, Kentucky. Veterans, National Guard or Army Reserve personnel, and students who have completed 3 or more years of Junior ROTC may also qualify for advanced placement into the Advanced Course.

In addition to courses offered for academic credit, the Military Science program sponsors extra-curricular activities. The Tiger Ranger Company and Color Guard are open to all Army ROTC students.

Students are eligible to participate in Army ROTC sponsored activities held throughout the school year. These challenging adventure activities include backpacking, field training, mountaineering, rappelling, land navigation, orienteering, and survival training.

THE DEPARTMENT OF NAVAL SCIENCE
NAVAL ROTC UNIT
CANDIDATES FOR NAVY AND MARINE CORPS COMMISSION

The Department of Naval Science provides a four-year and a two-year program of instruction leading to a commission as an officer in the United States Navy or Marine Corps. The program is voluntary and students may withdraw from the program at any time during the freshman year. At the start of the sophomore year, scholarship students enter into an agreement with the Department of the Navy that specifies active duty service after college work is completed. These programs are open to men and women.

The four-year program is geared to students who enter the NROTC program as freshmen. Students are introduced to the field of naval science, which encompasses a broad variety of subjects ranging from basic seamanship to fleet operations. Topics covered during the first half of the four-year program include principles of naval ships systems, naval weaponry, seapower, and maritime affairs. The second half (junior and senior years) is devoted to navigation and naval operations, naval leadership and management, and, for Marine option students, amphibious warfare and a study of warfare through the ages. Six-week summer training cruises are also part of the naval science program. While participating in summer training, students receive approximately one half the monetary compensation of an Ensign and are provided room, board, medical care, and travel to and from training.

The two-year program is offered to upper level students only. Students apply for enrollment through the Professor of Naval Science before the spring semester of their sophomore year. Following acceptance, students attend the six-week Naval Science Institute in Newport, Rhode Island, during the summer between the sophomore and junior years. Upon return to campus, students are enrolled in the NROTC program and participate as regular scholarship students.

Upon graduation and completion of the Naval ROTC Program, midshipmen are commissioned as Ensigns in the United States Navy or Second Lieutenants in the Marine Corps and execute their active duty service agreements.

NATIONAL ANTHEM

Oh, say can you see by the dawn's early light
What so proudly we hail'd at the twilight's last gleaming,
Whose broad stripes and bright stars through the perilous fight
O'er the ramparts we watch'd were so gallantly streaming?
And the rockets' red glare, the bombs bursting in air,
Gave proof through the night that our flag was still there.
Oh, say does that star-spangled banner yet wave
O'er the land of the free and the home of the brave?

ALMA MATER

Stand firm, O Alma Mater,
Through all the years to come;
In days of youth and beauty
Thy halls have been our home.
In time of preparation
Great lessons didst thou teach
Til now, O Alma Mater,
The stars we'll strive to reach.

College and School Banners

Adding to the pageantry of official ceremonies and featuring symbolic images for each of the University's colleges and schools, the banners were first used in 1989. The background of each banner corresponds to the color of that unit's academic regalia hoods and sleeve chevrons. Crowning each ensign are stripes indicating disciplines within the division, while a gold laurel wreath encircles each emblem.
